"In my experience, poor people are the greatest entrepreneurs. Every day, they must innovate in order to survive. They remain poor because they do not have the opportunity to turn their creativity into sustainable income."

-Mohammad Yunus

From the Founder's Desk

It is my pleasure to present the 3rd edition of our Annual Report with the highlights and key milestones of FY 22-23.

NeevJivan Foundation is a registered Section 8 Company working in the area of Skill Development & Vocational Training for our fellow citizens in rural India.

We work with tribal women & youth in rural Maharashtra with the objective of creating opportunities for meaningful and sustainable livelihood for them in their respective villages so that they don't have to migrate to the cities in search of greener pastures.

While FY 21-22 was a year when we stabilized our working model and our operations, the FY 22-23 was a year of execution wherein we helped in setting up of 10 small scale business ventures being run by tribal women & youth.

This year we spread scaled up our operations to work in over 35 villages across 3 talukas in rural Maharashtra and have also introduced over 20 vocations in collaboration with our knowledge partners.

We are grateful to our partners for their continued support – they have helped us in maximizing our reach among the marginalized communities in the poorest and most remote areas, funding various projects and increase the portfolio of vocations that can be offered to the beneficiaries.

Over the last 3 years, we have emerged stronger and resilient with robust delivery model and razor-sharp focus on execution.... We intend to continue this approach in the years to come.

What we bring to the table

Our work can be summarized through this simple canvas as follows

Beneficiaries

Women & youth from the underprivileged community in rural India

(Jawhar, Dahanu and Trimbakeshwar talukas in Palghar & Nashik district of Maharashtra)

Problem Statement

Migration to cities by the target groups due to inherent poverty is the problem that we are attempting to solve

Our Solution

We work towards creation of alternate source of income in every family through introduction of vocation of choice.

- impart technical training
- Entrepreneurship Skills
- Facilitate access to seed funds to start a small scale business venture
- Support for 6 months & stabilise their operations

Our Partners

Knowledge partners-
Krishi Vigyan Kendra,
ID Tech Foundation

Project Funding
Partners- Rang De, ITDP,
Local banks

Mobilizing Partners-
ITDP, MSRLM, Zila
Parishad, Panchayat
Samiti

Our Differentiator

Start to end support rendered to beneficiary to help them start a small scale business venture of their own.

We run two programs across the villages where we operate –

- a. Model Village Program
- b. Community Tailoring Center

Model Village is our flagship program which is run at a village level wherein we attempt to introduce an alternate vocation in every household of the village thereby creating an alternate source of income for the family.

Under our Model Village Program, we identify a village in a tribal hamlet and reach out to the women with the help of executives from Maharashtra State Livelihood Mission (MSRLM). We then ride on the existing network of Self Help Groups created by MSRLM and follow the 5 step process spread over 6-8 months with each of them.

Over the last 3 years, we have sharpened our operating model to adopt a five-pronged approach towards our work –

Create alternate source of livelihood/ income with the introduction of at least one vocation of choice in every family

1 Technical training on vocation of choice

2 Introduction of entrepreneurship skills

3 Facilitate access to seed capital*

4 Help set up small scale business venture

5 Support for at least 6 months to stabilise operations

Model Village is our flagship program wherein we attempt to introduce an alternate vocation in every household of the village thereby creating an alternate source of income for the family.

We then ride on the existing network of Self Help Groups created by MSRLM and follow the 5 step process spread over 6-8 months with each of them.

We have sharpened our operating model to adopt a five-pronged approach towards our work –

Vocations Taught

As on date, we support 20 vocations and the same are offered to beneficiaries to choose from. The technical training pertaining to the vocation are delivered by our Knowledge Partners – Krishi Vigyan Kendra, Dahanu, Khadi Village Industries Commission, Dahanu and ID Tech Foundation (affiliated to NSDC).

Entrepreneurship Skills

As part of the module on Entrepreneurship skills, we cover topics like working as a team, Individual & SHG goal setting, linkage between demand-supply-pricing, who is the customer, what does the customer want, how to create a value proposition using 4 P's of marketing, how to market the products, influence of competition, product pricing, accounting & book keeping and more.

Access to funds

Access to funds is one of the key elements for the success of our program which aims to prevent migration of the tribal women & youth by creating opportunities of sustainable livelihood in the villages.

NeevJivan Foundation facilitates access to funds for the Self Help Groups to start a small scale business venture by tapping various sources – Government Schemes & Programs, CSR Initiatives of Corporate House, Foundations, PMEGP / CMRGP, Mudra Loans, etc.

We firmly believe in Gandhiji's principles of wholesome and immersive learning (Nai Talim) and all these topics are taught to the beneficiaries through fun & games, customer interactions, case studies, group discussions, etc so that the concepts get embedded in their minds through experience, rather than theory.

Setting up the small-scale business venture

Armed with the technical knowledge about the vocation, entrepreneurship skills and funds, the next step for the SHGs is to set up the business venture.

Support for 6-8 months to stabilize their operations

First six months after start of the business is the most crucial period for the SHGs and it is the time they need the maximum support.

That's the time when we help them with the following –

- a. Hands-on training on the machines for the women in coordination with the selected vendor
- b. Selection of attractive packaging material
- c. Branding for the product (wherever applicable)
- d. Procurement of licenses (e.g. fssai license for food products) and other mandatory documents to start business like udyog adhaar, Business PAN card, etc
- e. Streamlining & stabilizing their operations
- f. Market connect and linkages

NeevJivan Foundation assists the SHG in the following activities -

- a. identify the location to set up the operation
- b. identify the vendors for the machinery procurement & installation of the machinery
- c. purchase of raw materials
- d. help them set up the shop floor and more.

The Vocations we teach...

We have created a portfolio of over 20 vocations in association with our knowledge Partners – M/s. Krishi Vigyan Kendra, M/s. Khadi Village Industries Commission, and M/s. ID Tech Foundation.

The beneficiaries are free to choose any of them following which the technical training starts.

Stories of Impact

Sanitary Pad Making Unit, Dahanu

Pragati Mahila Utpadak Gath is a Self Help Group based in Dhabon Village in the Dahanu taluka in Palghar district. They are a group of women from the Katkari Community which has been classified as Primitive Vulnerable Tribal Group (PVTG) by the Government of India and are prone to migration.

They have been trained by us on entrepreneurship skills and their project for manufacturing Sanitary Pads has been funded by the Integrated Tribal Development Project (ITDP), Dahanu and Manav Vikas Department of the Government of Maharashtra.

Today, these women have started manufacturing the sanitary pads and selling them in the local market under the brand name "Pragati".... We believe that in the long run, this initiative will help in preventing their migration to the cities....

Masala, Papad & Pickle Production Center, Dahanu

Sai Krupa Swayamsahayta Mahila Samuh is a Self Help Group comprising of tribal women from the Ganjad village in Dahanu taluka. They have worked diligently for to set up their Masala, Papad & Pickle making unit in their village.

Marketed under the brand name "Unnati", they have already touched a turnover of Rs. 5 Lacs in the last 6 months of operations and we hope to take their business to great heights.

The project has been funded by Manav Vikas Department, Government of Maharashtra and ITDP, Dahanu and executed by NeevJivan Foundation.

Patrawali Unit, Dahanu

The hard work put in by us over the last 12 months has begun to show results....

The tribal women belonging to Tejaswini Mahila Utpadak Gath in Ganjad village have started their small-scale venture, i.e., making paper plates and bowls. These products are now available for sale.

They have been trained on entrepreneurship skills by NeevJivan Foundation and the project was funded by Manav Vikas Department, Government of Maharashtra and ITDP, Dahanu.

Large format poultry farm in Jawhar

This is a story of grit and determination of the unemployed youth from a remote village in Jawhar taluka in the Palghar district. What caught our attention was their enthusiasm and willingness to do something more meaningful in life.

The consensus was that they would like to start a poultry farm and so began their technical training at Krishi Vigyan Kendra, Dahanu.

Panchayat Samiti in Jawhar approved the proposal to set up the poultry farm under the National Rural Employment Guarantee Act. It was a unique proposal because for the first time, we were combining poultry sheds allocated to multiple beneficiaries into one large unit to exploit economies of scale.

Today, they are engaged in contract farming and have successfully completed 3 poultry cycles.

Brick manufacturing in Jawhar

This is another big project - a brick making unit was started in Raytale village in Jawhar taluka. This was started by a group of Primitive and Vulnerable Tribal Groups (PVTG) – Adim Swayamsahayta Samuha.

Traditionally, all the 20 men and their families have been migrating to Silvassa for almost 8 months every year to make bricks – an extremely labor-intensive and difficult job. But like any other migrant community, they have been victims of exploitation by middlemen.

Recently, the Panchayat Samiti in Jawhar constructed “pucca” houses for them in their village so that they stay in these houses permanently and do not migrate again, it was decided to help them with an opportunity for livelihood.

And thus emerged the Brick Making Unit in the same set up. While the project has been funded by Manav Vikas Department through MSRLM and Panchayat Samiti, Jawhar, NeevJivan Foundation has trained the beneficiaries on entrepreneurship skills and is constantly guiding them in execution of the project.

Chiku Processing Units in Dahanu

*Parvati Mahila Bachat Gath,
Vill. Rampur, Tal. Dahanu*

*Sai Samarth Mahila Bachat Gath. Vill.
Kosbad, Tal. Dahanu*

*Divyani Mahila Bachat Gath,
Vill. Bawda, Tal. Dahanu*

*Santoshi Swayam Sahayta Samuha, Vill.
Gholvad, Tal. Dahanu*

The Dahanu-Gholvad belt in the Palghar district is famous for Chiku production - the fruit also known as sapota and is the only place in the world where it is grown all through the year. It is also one of Geographical Indicator (GI) tagged produce from Maharashtra.

Little known to the world, chiku is rich in nutrition and is very good for children and expecting mothers.

That's exactly the reason why we have set up four chiku processing centers so that products like chips, powder, pickles and biscuits can be made and sold across the country.

The four centres are being successfully run by women entrepreneurs (all tribal).

What our beneficiaries & stakeholders have to say

This group of tribal women who have undergone training on basics of tailoring with us have started earning by stitching garments, bags and many other products.

“There are many organizations who teach and give us certificates, but there are very few who actually help us earn a living out of the vocation. We are very happy with this arrangement at the Community Training Center in Walwanda and hope to get continuous orders in the days to come....”

During Diwali last year, the members of Sai Krupa Swayam Sahayta Mahila Samuh based in Ganjad village of the Dahanu Taluka in Palghar made masala hampers. This is what they had to say -

“Thank you very much for the orders for masala hampers. It has boosted our self confidence.... We now believe that we are ready to take on bigger challenges. Going forward, we will also make pickles, papad and many other items. Please support us for the same as well.

“We also thank officials from Prakalp office in Dahanu, Manav Vikas Department and NeevJivan Foundation who have supported us in setting up our small venture”.

Ujjwala Kambli, Community Resource Person & member of Divyani Mahila Bachat Gath who have set up a chiku processing unit recently.

“We never thought that we will be able to start a small-scale business on our own. Thanks for NeevJivan Foundation, we have been able to set up this chiku processing center in our village. We will definitely work very hard and we will make this business very successful.”

Laxmi Tai and her associates from the Santoshi Mahila Bachat Gath, Rampur Village are very happy to have started the chiku processing unit.

“The earnings from this project will definitely help in stopping the migration to cities which many among us have been doing for the last few years. We are grateful to M/s. Embitel Technologies Ltd for helping us in buying the machines and NeevJivan Foundation for executing this project successfully”.

Shri. Samir Vathartkar, Block Development Officer, Jawhar is the main architect of the new poultry farm in Kogda village and this is what he had to say about the project –

“This is perhaps a great example of convergence of efforts between a government body (Panchayat Samiti), a private organization (Tata Motors) and an NGO (NeevJivan Foundation) who have come together for the betterment of the society”.

Prakash Baraf, who leads the Swarajya Shetkari Bachat Gath which started the Sharda Poultry Farm in Kogda village, Jawhar recently spoke to us about the support that they received from both Panchayat Samiti, Jawhar, Tata Motors Ltd and NeevJivan Foundation, without which they would not have been able to start this poultry farm. “We are grateful to all these entities who have come together to help us set up our farm for us”.

3 years of operations is a major celebratory milestone. Not only does the team feel assured about the strong foundation that has been laid, the confidence in their abilities is shared by the extended community of supporters, partners, donors, beneficiaries and all our cheer leaders.

Last year has seen the consolidation of our activities in 2 locations and expansion into a new location. The learnings from there have allowed the team to focus even more sharply. A significant effort in the coming year will be to deepen our impact by creating more financial resources to support the various initiatives which are being demanded by the community.

Neevjivan has invested on building that strong foundation in the community.

The faith and trust earned by its ground work with beneficiaries and government agencies is yielding positive results.

With dedicated team and constant efforts it's only matter of time for Neevjivan to become a self sustaining organisation in the sector of livelihoods for rural communities.

Anasuya Banerji

Social Entrepreneur, Fund Raiser, Creative Thinker

Neevjivan's mission is to create opportunities for a sustainable living for the marginalized community in rural Maharashtra . This effort is visible on the ground over the last three years.

The dedication of this team in conjunction with the founder is evident from the increase in the number of beneficiaries whose projects are being funded this year.

It's a matter of pride to witness the spurt in growth in the number of entrepreneurs in rural areas of Palgarh, since the initiation of Neevjivan. Along with motivation and encouragement, the team struck an immeasurable faith within the community. The enthusiasm, grit and determination of unemployed youth from Jawahar, in building a future together, speaks volumes of the efforts made by the Neevjivan team.

Neevjivan has built a wonderful example of cooperation and convergence of effort amongst a government body, a private organization and an NGO for the common good of the society. Wishing every success to the beneficiaries and team Neevjivan.
